Thos. W. Watson, Who Retires As City Manager, To Become Head Of Department In R. L. Kent Company

THOMAS W. WATSON, who is retiring as city manager of Glendale, has accepted the offer of the R. L. Kent company to head a new department of this fast growing construction concern. Mr. Watson was selected by Mr. Kent for the place because of his proven ability as an executive and manager as evidenced by his many years of experience in charge of municipal affairs. This new department will specialize in nothing but business properties in Glendale and when fully organized will have complete information on every piece of business property in the city. All of which will give the company the ability to render a distinct service to anyone interested in commercial enterprises here.

THOMAS W. WATSON
Who Retires As City Manager

Since placing A. L. Baird in charge of the real estate and insurance department, the R. L. Kent company has handled a great volume of business along these lines and Mr. Baird has made a record in writing fire and automobile insurance, it is stated. Regarding the enlarged scope of his business, Mr. Kent says:

"For those who have had the opportunity of witnessing Mr. Watson in action as city manager of the 'fastest growing city of its class in America,' there is proof aplenty of his sincerity, integrity, enthusiasm and pronounced ability as a business executive and city builder. He is a decided acquisition to the personnel and Mr. Baird and Mr. Watson together with their assistants will endeavor to build a business that shall merit the confidence and respect of all those who require advice along their respective lines."

Mr. Kent, himself, is devoting his time to the direction of the architectural and construction departments of the business in which he has a corps of experts handling only the larger jobs. His personal record of success combined with those of his associates fortell of large steps ahead in the upbuilding of a greater Glendale.

Mr. Watson has been identified with municipal affairs in an official capacity for about fourteen more than 20,000, and his knowledge thus obtained will, it is certain, prove of great value to him in his new work.

The retiring city manager has offered his services to the city whenever called upon and he has stated that he is willing at all times to serve for the further advance of Glendale.

The formal resignation of Mr. Watson as city manager of Glendale appears in another column of The Evening News tonight. In connection with his resignation, Mr. Watson made the following statement:

"Upon retiring at this time from the office of city manager of the city of Glendale, I desire to say:

"To the People of Glendale: It has been a real pleasure to serve you in an official capacity during the past fourteen years as a member of the board of trustees and in the capacity of city manager, and during that period to have had a humble part in fostering and guiding the development of the city.

"To the City Council: I desire to say that it has been a pleasure to serve with you and with your predecessors, the several boards (Continued on Page 4)

PASADENA MAN IS PUT IN POSITION UNANIMOUSLY

Retiring Official Is Given Praise; New Head Named After Full Inquiry

Thomas W. Watson, for fourteen years connected with the official life of the community as member of the board of city trustees and more recently as city manager, last night at the meeting of the city council presented his resignation as city manager to take effect on August 31. It was accepted.

Later during the meeting William H. Reeves, resident of Pasadena, where he has served as commissioner of public works, was unanimously chosen as city manager, the appointment being effective September 1. Just before the council adjourned, the city attorney was instructed by the council to prepare an amendment to the salary ordinance by which it is proposed to establish the city manager's salary at $350 a month.

The present salary is $290, and, in the opinion of the councilmen after investigation, not enough for the work required of the city manager. And, too, it is much lower than is paid like officials in other cities.

Resignation Is Accepted
Action on the city managership started in the council meeting when the city clerk read the following:

"August 11, 1921.
"Honorable City Council,
"Glendale, Cal.

"Gentlemen: Please accept my resignation as city manager of the city of Glendale to take effect Wednesday, the 31st instant.

"I would also respectfully request that I be granted the last fifteen days of August as a vacation.

"Respectfully,

"T. W. WATSON,
"City Manager."

"I move the resignation be accepted and that the request for fifteen days' vacation be granted," said Councilman S. A. Davis.

"Second the motion," said Councilman A. H. Lapham. And the motion for acceptance of the resignation and the request for a vacation carried unanimously.

Good Will Expressed

"I vote to accept Mr. Watson's resignation with a feeling of regret," said Councilman Lapham. "I know and appreciate the splendid work that Mr. Watson had done in the upbuilding of this city. In leaving us he has the good will and respect of every member of this council. Let me emphasize this fact, there has (Continued on Page 4)

William H. Reeves, Selected For Glendale's New Manager, Pledges Self To Further City's Progress

WILLIAM H. REEVES of Pasadena, electrical expert, versed in building construction, experienced in municipal matters and formerly commissioner of public works in Pasadena, was last night unanimously chosen by the city council city manager of Glendale. He was selected to succeed T. W. Watson after the five councilmen had conducted a complete investigation into the qualifications of the various candidates for the position. Members of the council unite in saying that they believe they have a well qualified city manager in Mr. Reeves who, incidentally, is a Glendale property owner and, of course, will at once make his home in this city.

City Manager of Glendale

"I am sincerely appreciative of the honor conferred upon me in my appointment as city manager of Glendale under the new charter," said Mr. Reeves in discussing his appointment with a reporter for The Evening News.

"I come here with the city council unanimously behind me. With their support, in a live community such as this, much will be expected of me, not alone in the matter of keeping pace with the city's phenomenal growth, but further, in trying to foresee and plan for its future development, so far as possible. To this end I shall welcome suggestions from any source. Even criticism will by no means be resented, provided only that it is constructive.

"Nothing hasty nor radical will be attempted. Changes will only be made after thorough investigation has demonstrated their advisability.

"I wish to take the first opportunity to commend the administration of my predecessor, Mr. Watson. The good work which he has done in Glendale will be better appreciated as time passes. I shall hope to build upon the foundation which he has so well laid.

"It is my duty and purpose to loyally endeavor to carry into effect the policies initiated by the city council, the direct representatives of the people. I hope to do this in a manner which shall command the approval and confidence of those who pay the bills.

"During the present decade I fully expect to see Glendale outstrip her sister city of Pasadena, just as was done by Long Beach in the last census period. Any part, however slight, which I may take in her future progress will be a source of pride and gratification to me."

Mr. Reeves comes to Glendale from Pasadena, where he has served for ten years in official capacities, ranging from chief electrical inspector to commissioner of public works. He is an engineer by profession, a graduate of Stanford university and successful administrator of municipal problems.

The new manager is familiar with all branches of building and characterized by efficiency and economy combined with an ability to meet the public with courtesy and consideration for their suggestions. Mr. Reeves also owns property in several counties in this state and is familiar with values here, some years ago having purchased a home site in Glendale.

In addition to his municipal experience the new manager has a war record, having served in the Philippines during the Spanish-American war, and he held a commission as Captain of Engineers in the more recent world war. During 1918 he was secretary of the federal grand jury and last year he passed first in a list of forty-five candidates for coroner of Los Angeles county. In another civil service examination he was second in a list of sixteen for the post of chief county probation officer.

SCHOOL PROBLEMS OF GRAND VIEW GET HEARING

Board of Trustees Confer With Committee; Plans for Pupils Outlined

The Board of Trustees of the Glendale city schools met Thursday night at the intermediate school, together with a delegation of five from the Grand View district who were sent to discuss the problem of transportation of children and the general school outlook.

The Grand View committee, consisting of Mrs. Myrtle Buckman, Mrs. E. Ellsperman, P. C. Ayers, E. H. Botsford and E. H. Learned, reported to the board that the district has appointed E. H. Learned to represent them in future meetings pertaining to the schools.

The board read reports from the Pacific Electric railway company and the Glendale & Montrose railway in which the Pacific Electric offered to transport the school children from the Grand View district to and from school for a 15 cents round trip fare. The Glendale & Montrose line offered to transport the children from Verdugo Woodlands district for a round trip fare of 5 cents.

It was the belief of the board that the Pacific Electric railway company was misinformed as to the distance the children would have to ride and that an explanation will result in a still lower rate from that company.

No Action Is Taken.

The board took no action on the matter of paying the transportation of the children.

A letter from Mark Keppel, the county superintendent was read, stating that no plan for paying transportation of school children could be legally adopted until it was approved by the county superintendent. Mr. Keppel suggested that the same plan be adopted in Glendale as that followed in the Los Angeles district, which provides for the payment of all fares in excess of ten cents per child.

The board, however, took no action in the matter and instructed Superintendent White and E. H. Learned to seek further information on rates before final action could be taken. They agreed to reach a decision at the next regular meeting.

Superintendent R. E. White was instructed by the board to call together the building committee appointed May 24, at the mass meeting of which David Black was chairman. Oliver O. Park is chairman of the committee that was to circulate petitions for a bond election. The election was called off in the spring owing to the supreme court's refusal to rule on the matter of whether the Grand View district was a part of the city of Glendale or not.

More School Room.

The charter, which went into effect in July, whereby that section became a part of the city of Glendale admits to the grammar schools over seventy-five children and makes the necessity of additional schools still more obvious. The plan discussed in the spring was to build another intermediate school in the southern part of the city.

An application from Mr. and Mrs. George Thatcher to be reappointed to take charge of the cafeteria of the Intermediate School was accepted.

At the next regular meeting of the board reports will be received from the committee of nineteen, representing nine citizens appointed and a representative of each parent-teacher's association in Glendale regarding the bond election for additional school buildings.

EILEEN SULLIVAN, BRIDE ELECT MEET HERE FOR FINAL CAUCUS

Miss Isabel Yates Hostess at Most Charming Affair to Group of Friends

The first of a series of social events in honor of Miss Eileen Sullivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sullivan of 711 South Central avenue, and who recently announced her engagement to Francis Gordon of Hollywood was the pyrex shower given for her last night by Miss Isabel Yates at her home, 329 West Acacia avenue.

The guests were very pleasantly entertained by several splendid vocal solos by Miss Ethel Shaul and the hostess Miss Isabel Yates. A very clever guessing contest provided a great deal of fun to the evening's entertainment. Miss Cook of Long Beach graciously consented to play several piano numbers.

Everyone was very curious until the mysterious packages, arranged on a side table had been opened by the bride-to-be and passed around for inspection. The gifts included many useful articles in the popular pyrex glassware.

Given Real Surprise.

Another real surprise of the evening came when the large screen which had been hiding the dining table from view was removed at 10:30 o'clock, amid exclamations of delight and admiration on the part of all the guests present. The large table was centered with a beautiful (Continued on Page 4)

The final caucus of the delegates from the ninth congressional district of the California state division of the American Legion took place Thursday night at the headquarters of the local post, with about fifty legionnaires in attendance.

Those present were representatives from Glendale, Pasadena, South Pasadena, Pomona, Compton, Long Beach, Alhambra, Covina, Whittier and Los Angeles, and as these cities are only a part of the sixteen in the district the meeting was termed "unofficial," no formal action being taken.

Datley S. Stafford of Covina, who is president of the organization, presided over the gathering, which was for an informal discussion of various subjects which are to be brought up at the state convention, which is to be held at Yosemite on August 22 to 26. A. N. Kollender, adjutant of the Long Beach post, responded to the request that he give a brief description of the condition, facilities and general conveniences of the immediate vicinity of the proposed convention grounds. Mr. Kollender was then appointed to make arrangements for the housing of the delegates of the ninth district.

'Sick Chickens' No Excuse for Speeder Here, Says Judge F. H. Lowe

An irate motorist paid $25 in Police Judge F. H. Lowe's court this morning for assaulting the driver of a machine which he was passing after a speedy altercation.

August Ross, a rancher of Pacoima, who was fined for the offense passed W. C. Blick of Los Angeles near the pumping plant on San Fernando road Monday afternoon.

It was a hot day and Ross crowded Blick's machine off of the road, it is said. The latter soon caught up with the rancher and told him what he thought. Words led to a fight in which Blick was beaten.

Both Are Satisfied

Today they faced each other in court. After the sentence had been passed Ross felt satisfied—for the privilege was worth it. Blick felt satisfied because the blows were bought and paid for.

Another case in which the offender paid a heavy fine was that of M. J. Stark, Jr., of Los Angeles. He paid $15 for speeding.

The motorcycle officer testified Stark was speeding along San Fernando road at a 40-mile per hour clip.

"Hitting it on high on one of Glendale's busiest thoroughfares," commented the judge.

$3,500. Amazing Opportunity $3,500.

Never did a home buyer have this unusual chance to make a selection from ten complete houses, differently designed, and at the same price of $3500. No auction, but a straight sale at a straight price. Each house is of equal value although each is individual and distinctive in character.

The Reason

Why can these residences, situated in three different locations, be sold at the same advantageous price? Because the builder and owner, Mr. A. G. Smith, is constructing all these houses at the same time, to be finished at a specified date, thereby eliminating all waste of material and labor. Mr. Smith is a builder of wide reputation, and has built half a million dollars in buildings at Phoenix, Arizona. The years of experience and buying power in the construction of a number of buildings, gives Mr. Smith an advantage of 20 to 25 per cent savings over anyone building a single house. Mr. Smith's broad vision, in seeing the natural advantages and wants of Glendale, has finally brought him here, and his judgment and enterprise will go a long way in the upbuilding of this community.

been no discord or friction between this council and the city manager."
"I feel sure that the ability of Mr.
Watson is appreciated," said Councilman C. E. Kimlin. "Speaking for myself, I know that he has done a great amount of work in behalf of the city of Glendale. I believe that it would be fitting that suitable resolutions be spread on the minutes of this body in tribute to the efforts of Mr. Watson for Glendale."

"I would like to add a few words relative to Mr. Watson's work," said Councilman Dwight W. Stephenson.
"I came on the board of trustees a stranger to him and the duties. I have come to like Mr. Watson as a man and as an official. I appreciate Tom Watson's ability. I appreciate him as a friend. And even though official relations are severed, I sincerely trust our friendship will remain unbroken for a long, long time."

Best Of Feeling
"The best of feeling prevails," said Councilman Davis. "I have the highest respect for Mr. Watson."

"I have been a friend of Mr. Watson's ever since I came to Glendale," said Mayor Spencer Robinson. "and I hope that friendship will continue until one of us is called away for good and all."

Members of the city council have for weeks been considering the applications for the position of city manager to be filled under the provisions of the city charter and the decision to appoint Mr. Reeves of Pasadena was reached as the result of the investigations into the qualifications of the various candidates.

Mr. Reeves Appointed Councilman Stephenson made the motion that Mr. Reeves be appointed and it carried unanimously without discussion.

It is understood that the councilmen were impressed with Mr.
Reeves' record in municipal affairs,
his knowledge of sanitation, water and electrical plants. He owns property in Glendale and will make his home here.

Mr. Watson will, as told elsewhere in The Evening News, take the head of a department in the Roy L. Kent company. A statement from him is also given.

Information concerning Mr.
Reeves' record, together with a statement from him, appears elsewhere in The Evening News. He was not present at the council meeting last night.

Members of the council, it is understood, made independent inquiry into the records of the candidates and also discussed the matter in the committee of the whole. It is the belief that when it was decided to take a vote on the appointment all of the councilmen found they were unanimous for Mr. Reeves.

To Begin At Once
It is expected that, although his appointment is not effective until September 1, Mr. Reeves will at once appear at the city hall in order to become familiar with his work and, it is stated, Mr. Watson has expressed a willingness to give him any aid he may require.

No action was taken by the council last night on the appointment of a city attorney. Hartley Shaw, present city attorney and who holds the office until he or his successor is named, is away on his vacation and W. E. Evans, former city attorney, acted in his stead last night.

Stock Reducing Sale
Announced by Bisno

Bisno, who conducts "the shop for men" at 110 North Brand boulevard, today announces in the columns of The Glendale Evening News a great stock reducing sale in which some unusual prices are quoted on desirable merchandise.
Many of the prices remind one of the good old pre-war times. A salesman's sample line of felt hats appears to be an excellent bargain, while shirts, neckwear and other furnishings are quoted way low.

CHAS. M'KENNEY FUNERAL

Services are being held this afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial park, for Charles McKenney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. McKenney, former residents of this city. He was engaged in the hardware business with his father at Venice, where he died. Members of the Beach Chamber of Commerce and Elks lodge are forming an escort for the body. Glendale lodge, No. 1289, B.
P. O. E., is in charge of the services.

"To Department Heads and Employees: I desire to say that whatever measure of success has attended our efforts has been largely due to your efficiency and co-operation."

"To the Incoming City Manager:
I congratulate you upon your appointment by the council to the office of city manager of Glendale and pledge you my support in every effort that you may put forth in ser-

that position to take up the duties of city commissioner in Pasadena to which he was elected. He is a thorough believer in the city manager plan and did much to obtain its adoption in Pasadena. The highest recommendations accompanied his application for the post.

Speaking from a more intimate standpoint, Mr. Reeves is 49 years old, and a native of the west, having been born in Seattle, Wash. He is married and has three children; a liberal republican in politics, a church man and abstainer and a member of the Masonic order.

As soon as possible Mr. Reeves and family expect to make their home here, and they are overjoyed that it is their opportunity to grow with the city. Glendale welcomes them to "the City of Homes."

Mrs. T. A. Wright
Returns From Trip
to Indiana Friends

Mrs. T. A. Wright of 141 North Louise street returned Sunday from Indiana where she has been visiting for the past six weeks. Mrs. Wright was called east by the illness and death of her mother, but remained to visit different relatives. She spent three weeks at Toledo and the rest of the time at South Bend.

The city of Toledo is on Lake Erie and very beautiful, according to Mrs. Wright, who especially admired the old, elm, maple and oak trees that line the streets. The boats on the lake and the summer green of the woods is also very lovely, but the heat was most depressing as the nights are so hot and sultry that sleep is almost impossible.

Mrs. Wright is very glad to get back to Glendale and its climate once more, she says.

nouncing a great opportunity for

Phoenix, Ariz., constructed ten at a time in desirable, close-in locations, and with this realty firm as his exclusive agents he expects to close them out quick at $3500 each.
The sale starts Monday, August 15.
It is confidently expected by Messrs. Kelly & Van Arsdol that this new type of house selling will prove the same success here that has met Mr. Smith's efforts in Phoenix.

by the local organization yesterday,
the Denver Chamber appeals for $225,000 additional money to relieve Pueblo flood sufferers. Citizens of Denver have raised $175,- given as yet only $53,000. Contributions should be sent directly to the disaster relief fund, American

STUNT PARTY IS ENJOYED

After the regular choir rehearsal at the First Methodist church last night members were entertained with a stunt party. Each one was called upon to contribute a stunt, some giving comical readings and songs, and others prophesying of the future. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were then served to the thirty-five members present. The party was in charge of Miss Isabel Isgrigg, choir leader.

basket of pink sweet peas and ferns.
At each place were tiny hon-bon dishes decorated with a cluster of organdie flowers for the guests.
The place cards were decorated with pink parasols, under which was written the names of Miss Sullivan and Mr. Gordon, and clever verses.
Pink ribbons were laid across the table to each guests place, and at the end of each ribbon was tied a very small package wrapped in pink crepe paper. When opened these were found to contain little favors for the guests. Miss Sullivan found in her package a wedding ring.
Others contained a thimble, an engagement ring, a horseshoe, etc.

A very dainty and delicious lunch was served by the hostess, who was assisted by her mother, Mrs. T. R.
Yates, and included fruit salad,
sandwiches, relishes, macaroons, punch and ice cream. Each dish of ice cream had been individually molded to represent cupids, doves, hearts, brides, etc., and caused a great deal of comment.

Following the lunch several musical numbers were given. The guests departed at a late hour, complimenting Miss Yates on the very clever party given by her and extending best wishes to the bride-to-be.

Guests present included Miss Eileen Sullivan, Mrs. Robert Sullivan, Mrs. William Sullivan, Miss Louise Ayala, Miss Lillian Schick,
Miss Naoma Eastman, Miss Ruth
Ryan, Miss Naomi Berier of Eagle

Ethel Cook and Miss Lillian Cook of

Dr. and Mrs. Westphal
Entertain for Nurses

Dr. and Mrs. H. G. Westphal of 337
North Isabel street entertained Thursday night, their guests being the senior nurses from the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital, who will graduate from the training school next Monday night.

The color scheme was in old rose and green, the class colors, and was carried out very daintily in rose colored asters, the class flower, and ferns. A number of very original games were played and at the close of the evening a two-course supper was served, the ice cream being a white brick with "21" in rose and green.

The nurses of the graduating class who attended were Misses Lillian Munson, Olive Evans, Ethel Gyes,
Elizabeth Buhler, Ha de Camp, Fern
Bostwick, Bessie Gerald, Martha Schuler, Vida Marsh, Hazel Robertson, Elsie Capfer, Anna Roberts, Marguerite Unruh, Harriet Alderson,
Mabel Stierwald, Bessie Baker, Mrs.
Daisy Harris, superintendent of nurses at the hospital, was also a guest and Mrs. Tillie Messenger, the Westphal's house guest.

Sierra District Now
Annexed to Glendale

Glendale increased in territory over night, for the annexation election held yesterday in the Sierra district resulted in that section coming into the city by a vote of 18 to 6, a total of twenty-four votes being cast.

P. S. McNutt addressed a communication to the City Council, which was read at last night's meeting, telling of the success of the election.

Councilman S. A. Davis, just before the election was held, went to the district and addressed the voters, telling them just what the city could do in the way of furnishing water. It is believed that Councilman Davis' clear explanation of the water question had a great deal to do with the annexation of the excellent territory to Glendale.

ENTERTAIN HOME GUESTS

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick B. Walker of 710 East California street have as their house guests Mr. Walker's brother, Franklin E. Walker, his wife and his children, Kenneth and Harriet. The visitors are residents of Long Beach, and will return to their home the first of the coming week.

VISIT AT BEACH RESORTS

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Walters of Glendale, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Marsh and family have been enjoying a number of very delightful beach parties the past week.
Thursday they spent the day at Ro-dondo, picnicking on the sand and swimming. The young folks have especially enjoyed these affairs.

REFUNDS TO REALTY BROKERS WILL BE SENT OUT SOON

Many Will Give Money Behalf
State Magazine, Owned by California Association

The state law, refunding to California realty brokers and salesmen, the license fee collected under the act of 1917, and which refund was secured for them largely through the efforts of the California Real Estate Association, went into effect the first of this month. Edwin T. Keiser, the state real estate commissioner, will send out these refunds just as soon as the state department has checked through the list and ascertained to whom the refunds are due. Many of the brokers and salesmen who would receive this refund have followed the lead of many California realtors in assigning their refund fees to the State Association as an endowment for the official state journal of realtors, California Real Estate, at Oakland.

The 1917 law, the first real estate license law in the nation, was held to be unconstitutional on the ground of making certain exemptions, but it had been operating for several months, and the fees, collected 4 years ago, had never been returned to the brokers. Until the State Association took this matter up vigorously, and with the various lawmakers, there seemed little chance of the bill going through.

Made As Endowment.

As an incentive to the newly founded state magazine, owned and published by the state association, the refund is being made as an endowment quite generally throughout the state, in order to strengthen the work of realty board organization.

There are now thirty real estate boards in California, nearly all affiliated with the California Real Estate Association and functioning broadly for the benefit of their respective communities. Each member, also each refund man, is sent the state journal.

E. P. Hayward, secretary of the Glendale Realty board, will gladly accept these refunds on behalf of the state magazine of which Glenn D. Willaman is editor.

Author Will Return to South Sea Isles

COLFAX, Iowa.—The south seas are beckoning James Norman Hall. Iowa's vagrant author, famous from his war books, "Kitchener's Mob," and "High Adventure," who has spent the last eighteen months roaming between Tahiti and the Marquesas islands in the eastern oceans, is now visiting his parents here, but the romantic charm of the palmy isles will draw him back within the next three months.

Jogging around with his companion, Charles Nordhoff, Hall has completed a set of articles on the "Faery Islands of Seas," which have been published in an eastern magazine and will appear in book form next winter.

The famous chronicler of the Lafayette escadrille, who joined "Kitchener's Mob" in 1914, has journeyed more than 7000 miles in the last year within the islands. His next trip will be to Rapa Iti, a rarely visited islet 500 miles south of Tahiti, down next to the equator.

"The romance and charm of the islands is justified," Hall declares. "The black sands, luxurious vegetation, and bright blue skies make them beautiful."

"The natives are fine, broad-shouldered, splendid specimens. The women are not, perhaps, as beautiful as they are represented in fiction."

"Often my companion and I stay for weeks on a tiny atoll—a little, low island with coconut trees surrounding a lagoon, not more than three feet above the ocean."

"One finds romance everywhere." The debonair author is unmarried—but he's returning to the south seas.

In Mexico there is an herb that is popularly called the "rattleweed;" if horses eat of it, it is believed that they will go mad.

St. James Ball Set to Jazz Dance Music

LONDON—Plain, common, ordinary, toddle-around-and-moan jazz has the patronage of the Court of St. James.

At the state ball, given in honor of the King and Queen of the Belgians in Buckingham palace, the first state ball since the war, attended by a large part of the British royalty and some 2,000 members of the diplomatic corps and nobility, this was the list of pieces:

Methusalem (for the quadrille d'honneur), Omaha, Whispering, Chiquita, Joy Bells of Peace, The Music Box, Avalon, Missouri, Oh! Joy, The Best Little World, Avola, Thoughts, Swanee, Sybil, The Love Nest, Blaze Away, Fragrance, Cuban Moon, Irene, Thrills, John Peel.

All the American pieces in this list, of course, made their debut in London long ago. This is the first time, however, that these pieces have come into such prominence.

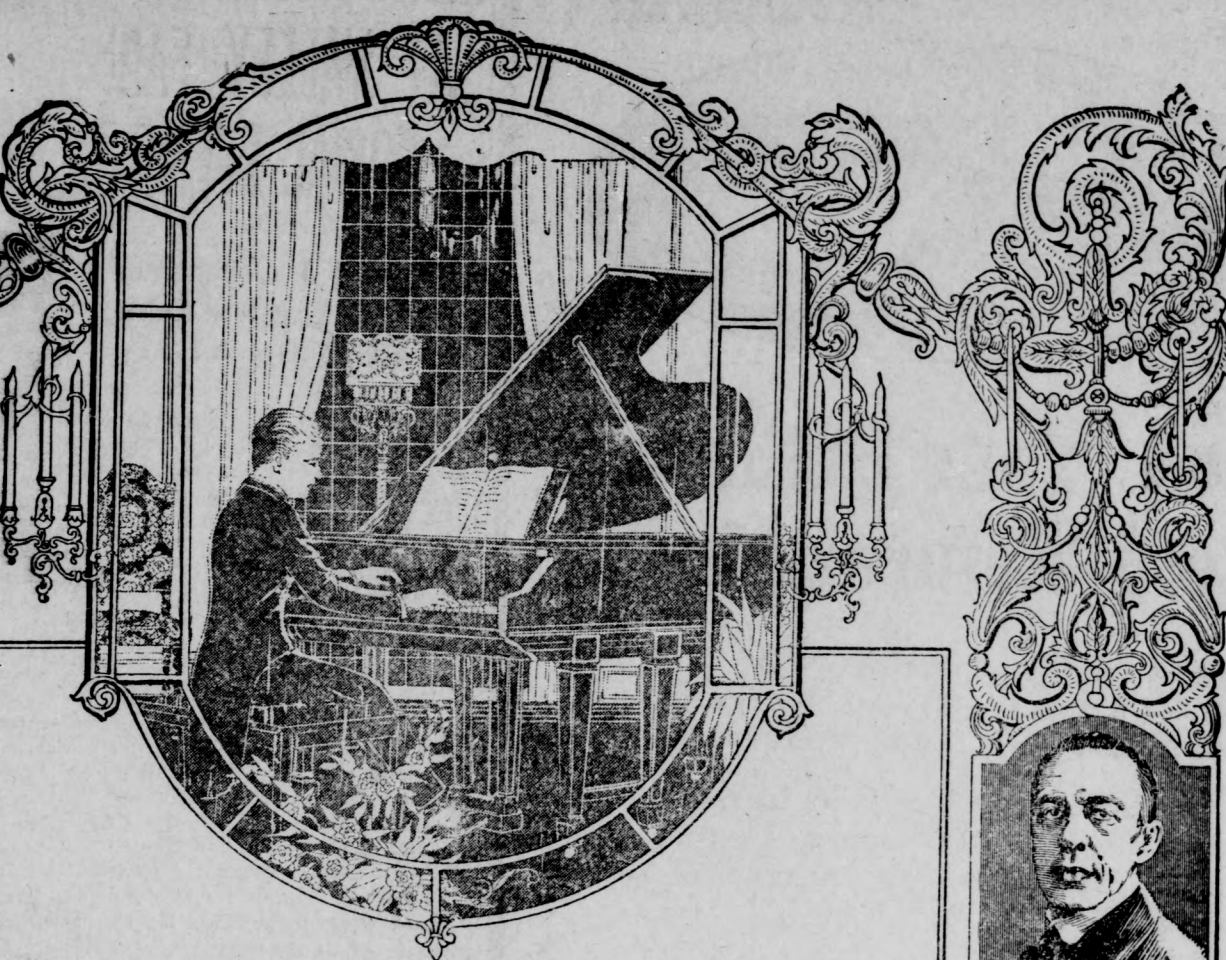

WARNS BUILDING TRADES

CHICAGO, Aug. 12.—"If you don't change some of your working agreements," Judge Landis told building trades employees and contractors today, "you'll all be in jail, and I'll be there also for having anything to do with you."

Landis is the arbitrator in the building trades dispute which tied up millions of dollars worth of construction and thrown thousands out of work for weeks. The judge ordered both sides to clean house before bringing their troubles to him. The judge hit the agreements of the plumbers union which prohibits its members riding to work. Pay starts when the plumber leaves home.

EVERY STREET CAR STILLED

BAY CITY, Mich., Aug. 12.—This city and its neighbor, Saginaw, took the jitney route to work today. Every car in the two cities was put into the barns. They will remain there until further orders from the United States district court which Wednesday appointed a receiver for the railway company operating in the two cities. Otto Schupp, president of the Bank of Saginaw was appointed receiver.

NIGHT HORSE SHOW AT VALLEY FAIR SOCIAL EVENT

Number of Thoroughbreds In Feature; Livestock Entries
Are Coming In Fast

Plans for the San Fernando Valley Fair, which will be held September 13 to 18, are now reaching completion at a rapid pace and entries in the different divisions are coming in by the dozens every day.

A report received today from Hamilton (Horse) Bassett, who will be in charge of the $1000 a night horse show, is to the effect that Mr. Bassett is assured of the entry of 116 of the finest thoroughbred show horses in the state for his night horse show and in addition to this there will be at least fifty standard bred horses, entered for the awards as published in the Premium-Book, that will not compete in the events held during the evenings.

The latest entries received by Mr. Bassett were from Mrs. Martha D. Bowers, of Junipero Plaza at Santa Barbara. Mrs. Bowers is the president of the Santa Barbara Riding and Trails association and she will enter "G" Gloriana McDonald in the saddle and combination of the show and "Brady" in the Stock Horse Exhibit. Gloriana won five blue ribbons in the last Ambassador Horse Show and has also won blue ribbons at the Ventura and Pasadena shows.

Will Be Society Event.

The $1000 a night horse show will be a society event of the first order and it will be entered by sportsmen who are lovers of the horse. The ten events to be held each evening, with prizes of $100 for each event, will be full of action. The beauty of 116 such horses in the decorated and lighted arenas will be a wonderful sight.

Mr. O'Neill of the power farming exhibit had several new entries among the tractor firms who will enter the tractor working demonstration contest and also many new pump, implement and accessory applicants for the Still Show.

The report of the livestock division, under the direction of M. H. Adamson brought the following additional entries:

Braat rancho, twelve head of Duroc Jersey swine; also Guernsey cattle.

Eastman rancho, at least one entry in each division of Poland China swine.

Adohr stock farm, entries of prize Guernsey dairy stock.

Carl Ray's rancho at Lankershim, will exhibit Jersey and Holstein cattle and they will also exhibit their famous "Airplane Belle" who is the first cow in the world to ride in an airplane.

Michael's stock farm in Ventura county, will exhibit their $25,000 Bull and will also have several other entries.

Fred Hartsook and J. F. Bustin, of Lankershim, will make entries of Toggenberg goats and will also have entries in the cattle division.

Ira Young, also of Lankershim, will exhibit both Toggenberg and Saanen goats.

Poultry Department.

The poultry department, under E. I. Hammond of Riverside, is also making splendid progress. The judges for the poultry show will be Henry Mumford, of South Pasadena and A. G. Goodacre of Compton, Cal. Fritz Thott of Glendale will judge the bantams; Lewis Salisbury of Pasadena will judge the rabbits, cavies, etc.; George England of Inglewood will judge the utility classes.

It would look as if the San Fernando mothers expect to hold the field against all comers and prove that the Valley raises the best babies in Southern California also, for there are, to date, over fifty babies entered for the baby contest from this town alone. The baby contest will be under the supervision of Dr. Maude Wilde, of Los Angeles, who has been prominent in child welfare work throughout the state for years.

Here's Way to Avoid Being Punished for Breaking Any Laws

CHICAGO—A man legally executed, pronounced dead, and then revived by means of a pulmotor, could commit any crime known to law, and not be liable to prosecution and legal punishment.

The law couldn't recognize his existence. He might walk into the court room of the judge who sentenced him and kill the judge who pronounced his fate, and no hand could be laid on him.

On the other hand, he would have no protection under the law, no matter what offense might be committed against him.

This is one of the phases of the legal question that has been brought up since the attempts to resuscitate into life the bodies of Sam Cardinella and Nick Viana, murderers hung here recently. The law is taking no chances now, and bodies are being held several hours by the authorities after hanging an hour before they are turned over to the dead man's family.

Chicago jurists are divided over the status of a person who might be thus revived.

Judge Hugo Friend and Judge David Broderick take the stand outlined above.

Assistant State Attorney Lloyd Heth declared such a complication would free the man. "He could walk out of the morgue, and the law couldn't touch him. But he couldn't marry and couldn't vote. If he were beaten up by a citizen, the citizen couldn't be punished for anything more serious than cruelty to animals."

"There was an old theory that if the rope broke, the law was fulfilled and the man couldn't be hung again," said Judge Harry Fisher. "That idea is not according to modern law. Either he's dead or alive."

GOVERNOR TO STRIKE BACK

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 12.—Governor Len Small planned today with his attorneys to strike back at "character assassins" who he claims are attempting to ruin him. The state executive, while awaiting trial on charges of misuse of millions of dollars of state money, is making arrangements to exhibit to "public view all of the ramifications of protected vice and crime supplementary to my prosecution," he said.

ARMY STILL HOLDS POLICY CONTROL OF JAPANESE

Dual Diplomacy Is Evident In Recent Actions, Is Opinion Expressed

By HENRY W. KINNEY

United Press Staff Correspondent
TOKYO—While it was given out definitely as a result of the cabinet and foreign office conference which ended a few weeks ago, that steps would soon be taken for the removal of Japanese troops from all parts of Siberia, except the Amur region and Saghalien, no steps appear to be taken to carry out such evacuation.

Furthermore, no negotiations have been entered into with the government at Chita, although it was stated that such would be taken up immediately, to be followed instantly with the withdrawal of the troops as soon as Chita promised to undertake preservation of order in Siberia when the Japanese pulled out.

At first glance it would seem as if the overthrow of the Chita forces at Vladivostok; by the Kappelites, following immediately upon Japan's announcement of her intention to withdraw her troops, might furnish the reason for the postponement of such action; but, while the war department may look upon this as an excellent excuse for staying in Siberia, it was stated unofficially but on unquestioned authority at the foreign office that this event would not be allowed to interfere with the plans decided on.

It seems apparent that this is another case of the dual diplomacy which has been the curse of Japan for many years past, where the ministry may undertake, in perfect good faith, to carry out some course of action, only to have its plans entirely frustrated by the quiet but effective stubbornness of the general staff, which still has the power to act quite independently.

If no change occurs in the situation very soon, it is apparent that the general staff and the militarists will have demonstrated that, in spite of all that may be said to the contrary, they still rule Japan.

Architectural Perfection

God's noblest achievement in architecture is the backbone.

Just as the main girder that runs through the center of a ship, or supports some mechanical construction, has direct relation with every part of its surrounding mechanism, so has the backbone direct relation with every part of the human structure.

When all parts of this wonderful spinal structure are in perfect adjustment, every part of the human system works perfectly.

Chiropractic deals with the spine only. The Chiropractor looks to the main stem of the human body to locate the cause, and finding it he adjusts it with his hands, then the natural health insuring mental forces of the body heal such organs as may be affected.

'DEAR KATIE' HEARS TIAJUANA IS BAD FOR FINANCES

Strivin' Reporter, Looking for Inspiration, Drops Fortune to Him

Tiajuana, Mexico., Aug. 11, 1921.
Dear Katie—Since you got my last letter, which the same said as how I was headin' south from San Diego, I suppose you been havin' a fit a minute as to where I was goin and why.

Well, here I am in far off Tiajuana and right now I'm as sick of this town as Carpentier is of New Jersey, but seen as how I'm here, I might as well write a article about it, before I slide for Glendale and the home base.

Well Katie, Tiajuana is a hot, dusty sun baked, dilapidated lookin' town and is only two blocks long and the same in width and its' made up of rickety, tumbledown, slab sided hovels which look as bad as a complication of diseases. In these hovels is restaurants, saloons, dance halls, hotels and gamblin' halls.

The population of Tiajuana runs anywhere from a couple hundred Mexicans one day, to several thousand Americans the next, dependin' as to whether the lid is on or off. Today Katie, the lid is off and hundreds of Americans is buyin postal cards and stickin' 'em back to the old home, to show their friends as how they are in a foreign land.

They Run Wild There

On the streets, chickens (both kinds) run wild. Everywhere there is dark skinned Mexican senors and dusky senoritas minglin' hither and thither with American men and women. Japs, Chinamen, tourists, clothe trotters, fashionable debutees, movie stars, the elite of society, gamblers, rich men, poor men, beggar men, thieves and strivin' reporters are to be seen in this melting pot of Old Mexico. Here is found the Monte Carlo which the same has been called the biggest gambling place in North America or Hollywood.

In the many dance halls strange mixtures of human bein's swing to and fro in fantastic dance to the strains of somethin' called music, but which sounds more like a earthquake in a china store.

In the saloons, both men and women are lined up at the bars like it was pay day in the stock yards and every body talks Spanish with a thirsty accent.

In the gamblin' halls many pleasure seekers shove their way thru the crowds to try their luck with the fickle Goddess of Chance, which the same in Tiajuana is a refined term for highway robbery.

In one store is a sign which says, "Your photo finished in 20 minutes," but across the street, they can finish a guy's bank roll in less time than that.

Well Katie, this mornin I sashayed into one of them gamblin' halls just so I could get some facts for my article.

I stopped for a minute at one table which the same had a lot of red and black spots with numbers on 'em and there was a guy spinnin' a marble on a cute little wheel and when the wheel stopped, he scraped in all the money there was in sight and the game commenced all over again. On that there table was piles of silver dollars that looked like Charlie Chaplin's annual salary.

Well, He Takes Chance

I couldn't figure out how the game was played, but I didn't want to be took for a mere loafer, so I just put a quarter, kinda off hand on a spot where it said, "2 for 1."

Then the guy spun the wheel again and when it stopped, he scraped in all the money in sight—except my quarter, Katie. I got my quarter back and 50 cents to boot.

Katie, can you imagine how I felt? No, of course not. Well I was tickled pink.

I got so excited I forgot all about writin' a article and my heart was thumpin' like a base drum.

So again I played and again I won. Twenty minutes later Katie, I was $11.00 to the good and everybody was lookin' at me kinda envious like, but I didn't look at nobody. I felt as swelled up as a wet sponge, but I was sweatin' like a Esquimo in the Sahara desert.

Right away I decided as how I knew the game like a book and I never even read no book, so I started out to break the bank and clean up the joint. So I played dollars instead of quarters. Katie, I just couldn't lose. I was gettin rich faster than a guy sellin' ice cream cones in Hades.

By this time I was so happy, I hurt. I had that Jesse James guy behind the table scared stiff.

So I played again and then—well Katie, that time I LOST.

Then I played the red to win and up come number 8.

It's Sad Story, Mates

Say Katie, if number 8 is red, I'm the Prince of Wales. Number 8 in that game is blacker than a dollar's worth of stove polish. I LOST. In

Displacing Steam on Railroads In Italy

By HENRY WOOD

United Press Staff Correspondent
ROME—Italy's electrification of her state railways is proceeding with a rapidity that is surprising the most optimistic.

When the task is at last completed, Italy will have taken her first definite step towards freeing herself from virtual slavery to whatever foreign country can supply her with coal—to say nothing of greatly improving her financial situation by diminishing one of her biggest and most expensive items of importation. Following the electrification of her railways, Italy plans to electrify practically all of her industries, utilizing the almost inexhaustible water power resources of her mountains and streams.

A flat object falls more slowly than a round one of the same weight, because it has a bigger surface for the air to act on as a buffer.

ten minutes more they had me yellin' "Come on Remorse."

By this time the wheel, the marble, my head, the whole place and all the natives seemed to be spinnin' around like a Put and Take top.

A half a hour later, I walked out of that Holdup Inn and I guess I must of looked like the 'end of a hard winter and my independent nature had slumped like copper stocks in a panic.

My pocket book had that gone-for-the-summer expression and the only reason I didn't lose my watch and chain was cause I had left it to home on the clock shelf.

Well Katie, I've borrowed enough money to get home on anyhow but I will always remember my trip to Tiajuana as a most miserable experience.

And the next time I come to Mexico on a vacation—well, I'll stay to home, that's all.

Adios, hasta la vista (Whatever that is)
E. C. HALE.

Do You Smile on Monday Morning?

LONDON—That Monday morning look is engaging the attention of people whose attention is engaged by such things.

A newspaper man whose hat saved his head from being a mere ornament, observed 100 representative people walking along the Strand on Monday morning and reported that: Seventy-two were slightly frowning.

Twenty-three were concealing with expressionless faces and apparent absence of thought.

Four were chatting briskly, and one was smiling to herself.

Most of the frowners seemed to be thinking of something not very pleasant, and only the one seemed really happy.

A photographer explained the frowns:

"Frowns are the feature of the Monday morning look of Londoners," he said. "Country people are different, but in London there is a complete reversal in expressions between Monday and Saturday, when everyone—almost—is looking forward to a well-planned week-end."

CHINESE IN NORTH DIVIDED

HANKOW, China, Aug. 12.—Armies of the southern provinces, despite lack of arms and munitions, are preparing to push their advantage, which added to recent military successes, has been increased by a definite split among the northern leaders. With only one rifle among four men, spears and matchlocks have been distributed in preparation for a further advance.

The breach among the northern leaders came when the Pekin government openly defied General Chang in naming General Wu Pei Fu inspector general of the provinces of Hupoh and Honan.

President Harding recently broke a presidential precedent when he dropped in unexpectedly on the senators in the midst of their luncheon hour and ate with some of his old associates in the senate.

AMERICAN ALLIANCE PLAN OF FRANCE, IT'S REPORTED

Declaration From U. S. Is Wanted at Conference,
Diplomatic Rumor

By RUSSELL BROWNING
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON—French delegates to the Washington disarmament conference will endeavor to obtain public proclamation by the United States of the principles contained in the Anglo-Franco-American treaty, agreed to in Paris by President Wilson, but refused ratification by the United States senate, according to information reaching the United Press today from a reliable diplomatic source.

France feels that it would be impossible to get anywhere in the discussion concerning limitation of land armaments on the continent without a declaration from America aimed at possible future German aggression, and to obtain this, the French delegates will indicate France's willingness to accept a public statement of principles by the United States in lieu of the more formal signed treaty, it was said.

May Discuss All Europe

One European country which may be represented at the disarmament conference has already been sounded out by Quay d'Orsay as to whether or not support would be accorded the French suggestion, it was learned today.

This information verifies the belief that the whole European situation will be brought up for discussion, including the Russian question.

The attitude of the American government is that the Russian situation is a matter which must be dealt with by each sovereign power, but a discussion of international principles as applied to Europe could scarcely avoid consideration of Russia, in the opinion of diplomats here.

While the agenda for the conference has not been decided on as yet, diplomats here who are in touch with the exchange of notes leading up to the conference invitations, are agreed that the conference will proceed along these broad lines.

Lines of Procedure

First, the settlement of far eastern and Pacific problems as a preliminary to any naval disarmament. Second, the question of American participation guaranteeing European security as a preliminary to French land disarmament.

Third, actual discussion of land and naval disarmament.

Fourth, an economic survey of Europe with special reference to protection of America's commercial interests with Germany and to the ultimate payment of the allied debt owed the United States.

Fifth, discussion of the Russian question.

Business First, Now Object of Soviet In Russia, It Is Claimed

By LLOYD ALLEN
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON—Bolshevism has gone into business.

For the time being at any rate, the world-wide political propaganda of the Soviets has been side-tracked.

Today the Soviet communistic leaders are searching world markets for machinery, textiles, locomotives and repair parts for the crippled Russian factories. They want some food—canned goods mainly.

Today Soviet Russia is actually buying goods in every highly industrialized country; England, Germany, Italy and—America, not in America, as yet.

This is a rough summary of what I learn from the Russian Trade Delegation here in London, the chief of which is Leonid Krassin; one-time revolutionist, still a communist, but also a man "who believes in the realities," as Soviet attaches here say.

In other words Krassin is classed by his own people as a "practical idealist" as contrasted with the purely theoretical communist of which Russia has her full share these days. One year ago Soviet Russia's reputation here in London (except in labor circles) was blacker probably than in any other country in Europe.

Great Transformation

Today a marvelous transformation has taken place. Soviet commissioners may be seen any day hurrying to and fro in the business section of London, some of them riding in spanking brand new automobiles, hugging large portfolios of specifications, busily engaged in ordering goods for Russia.

No longer is the bar of silence maintained between the Soviet delegation and the newspapers. Soviet Communiques are issued with as much freedom and more frequently than statements come from the old-established embassies of France, Italy and other powers.

Apparently, the majority of London has accepted the Soviet buyers as an immediate necessity.

The Liberal English press and the Labor Party organs continually insist world reconstruction and British prosperity is impossible unless Russia is opened up and again resumes her place in the list of great buying and selling nations.

Backed by the prestige of the British foreign office and by a decision of the British courts, the Soviet delegation may acquire, in any way it pleases, property, inside Russia and ship same to England.

Legalized Confiscation
Bluntly, the British have legalized confiscations in Russia; but certainly they do not encourage any such maneuver on the part of the Moscow government.

Bulk of business opinion, and the verdict of the British diplomats would seem to be: Let's straighten out the bygonies in Russia somehow or other—but meanwhile we must not let past errors hinder the pressing business of rehabilitating commercial relations.

England—in the midst of widespread trade depression—wants to sell goods and revive home prosperity.

Russia, according to the Soviet representatives, is a great market and offers gold and other credits as guarantees for purchases. Briefly the two nations are getting together commercially.

France may protest; America may stand amazed at the spectacle of England fraternizing with the Soviet government—but the Soviet delegation here is not worrying much. They confidently believe they will be trading with the United States before long; and they don't care a rap about French protests.

"France has nothing to sell," the Soviet representatives say. "She has only her enormous debts for money loaned the corrupt Czarist government; much of which was used to maintain the Grand Dukes in profligate luxury. We will talk of these French debts later—now we are preoccupied trying to re-establish Russia of today."

Prince of Wales Is Really Hard Worker

LONDON—The Prince of Wales is qualifying for the honor of the world's hardest worker.

With a two-months' drought and a burning sun to make the strenuous life particularly unpleasant, the prince is spending his summer on the move.

For example, on the day he went to Dover early in the morning to meet the King and Queen of Belgium, returned with them to London for a state luncheon at Buckingham Palace, played polo in the late afternoon, left at night for a northern English county, and leaving the train about 1 a. m., motored miles to Lord Derby's house, where he was a guest during a short tour.

A "tour" consists in being seen and being photographed, at cattle shows, baby shows, at garden parties, municipal functions and cricket games. He moves almost on the run from early morning until late night, and must be always smiling.

Minnows are to be imported into Spain from Augusta, Ga., to eradicate mosquitoes which carry malaria in many districts of Spain. The fish feed on the larvae of mosquitoes and experiments have been conducted to acclimate the fish.

When you hear of great discoveries in electricity, medicine, and mechanics, you wonder why science doesn't do something to help you every day in your life, such as making shoes wear longer.

That is just what has happened. Science offers you WonderWear.

About a year ago thousands of newspapers and magazines announced that Fred A. Howard, the New England scientist, had discovered a new basic product which restored and preserved the original life of leather. Since then this new fluid, now named WonderWear, has been used on many thousands of pairs of shoes, of all kinds of leather, worn under all conditions, and in many climates, and the result is always the same—the wearing quality of the shoes is greatly lengthened, they are permanently made delightfully comfortable, and this remarkable change, accomplished by the single treatment with WonderWear, does not prevent the shoes from taking the usual shine.

Some day the size of your family's shoe bill will lead you to buy and use WonderWear. Do not feel that you risk anything. WonderWear radically improves leather, so cannot injure your shoes—and if you do not agree that WonderWear does exactly those unusual things claimed for it—your money will be returned to you.

Korite Products, Inc., 91 Bedford Street, Boston, Massachusetts
LOS ANGELES SALES OFFICE, 908 SECURITY BUILDING

If your dealer doesn't yet carry WonderWear, we will send you a standard size can (enough for four pairs) for 50c. WonderWear is sold by drug, hardware, shoe, housefurnishing, sporting goods, luggage, department and grocery stores.

Senate Is Stirred Up by Canned Horse Meat

WASHINGTON—The senate turns the ear of annul to talk of "pork barrel" bills, but it showed a lively interest when "canned horse meat" was injected into the debate on the soldier bonus bill by Senator Watson of Georgia.

In taking a fling at Senator Myers for his four-hour speech in opposition to the gratuity for the veterans, the Georgia firebrand referred to Montana as the "canned horse meat state."

"Montana," declared the Georgian, "kills wild horses and packs the meat and sells it to the effete east as beef."

Myers leaped to his feet bristling with wrath.

"I am always ready to stand up for Montana, at any time and at any place," shouted Myers.

"And at any length," interposed Watson, harking back to the four-hour speech.

"Perhaps the effete state of Georgia, too, may sell canned horse meat," suggested Myers.

"Oh, no," replied Watson, "of all the effete states, the effete is the state of Georgia."

"I do not know where the senator gets his information that we can horse meat in Montana," said Myers. "It may be that he has been eating some of our canned meat, and it is so good that he cannot tell canned horse meat from canned beef."

"Quite likely," assented Watson. "I am almost sure of it. You never can tell what you eat in some of these restaurants. You go by the bill of fare, and when the words are in French you do not know what you are eating until after you have eaten it."

U. S.-BRITISH FILM BATTLE

LONDON, Aug. 12.—One of America's strongest industries is in for the fight of its life. British moving picture producers are preparing to battle American films. The approaching battle was announced by Walter West, managing director of the United States. It is growing out of the proposal in the United States to put a 20 per cent tax on all imported films.

PROMISES TO AID VETS

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 12.—"Tell the disabled soldier that he is going to get a square deal from a new deck. Warn the veterans that have been preying upon veterans' misfortunes that they will be destroyed. This was the gist of the message sent today through the United Press to soldier veterans by Col. Charles R. Forbes, director of the new veterans' bureau.

England Soon to Be Without Speed Limit

LONDON—Country people are awaiting with concern and motorists with joy the removal of the speed limit in England.

Week-ends at present are terrors to the rural districts. Motorcycles, bicycles, runabouts, touring cars and the whizzing Juggernauts of charabancs with their twenty or forty passengers tear up the narrow lanes of the green English countryside.

Nobody knows what's going to happen when, as planned during the next few weeks, the speed limit is withdrawn and police court charges against offending motorists become "reckless" instead of merely "fast" driving.

LOST THE LION'S SHARE

When Jones' rich grandmother passed away, all his poverty-stricken friends rallied about him with words of cheer and comfort, but Jones remained sad and dejected.

"She left a last will and testament, I suppose?" murmured Jenkins, carelessly.

"Oh, yes," said Jones, "she left a will and testament."

They hung expectant, while sobs choked back his words.

"I," he declared at last, "am to have the testament."

PITCHERS MAKE IT HARDER FOR BABE RUTH TO SMASH

Champion Has to Reach Out for Hard Ones to Get Home Run Record

BY HENRY L. FARRELL
United Press Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Babe Ruth should be able to break his home run record this season, but if he does he will not get the credit that the feat deserves.

Because he has done so much in making long distance hitting records the fans expect it of him. If he should make seventy homers this year, the fans will accept it with a "Well, he ought to. He's the greatest hitter that ever lived."

Outside of the fortunate few who have a chance to sit in most of the games in which the Babe performs, it is not realized what a real greatness it requires in the king swatter to get a home run.

Possessed of a good eye and a strong pair of arms and shoulders, it is no great feat for an ordinary batter to hit one out of the park, especially in these days of the lively ball.

Gets Hold of Bad Ones

The majority of home runs result from a crack at a good ball in the groove. Ruth, however, seldom gets a swing at a good ball. He had to get hold of the bad ones, and therein lies his greatness.

In the recent Yankee-Brown series, Ruth was passed twice by Urban Shocker. That, of course, is nothing unusual, but the comment of Lee Fohl, manager of the Browns after the game, throws light on what the Bambino is up against.

"Sure, I ordered him passed," Fohl said. "Any manager is crazy who gives that fellow a chance to hit in a tight place."

They're Afraid of Him

With runners on bases in a close game, Ruth usually gets four served up to him that he couldn't reach with a fence post. Some pitchers, knowing the Babe's propensity to slam the bad ones as well as the good ones, go almost to the extremity of rolling them down like a bowling ball.

This in large part explains why Ruth hasn't run away from his 1920 record. It was only fair to assume early in the season, when batters of an occasional calibre were knocking the ball out of the lot with great regularity, that Ruth would get about seventy-five this year. However, at the first of August he was just about even with the count of 1920.

Many of the fans are trying to figure why George Kelly, the Giant first baseman, who started out like he was going to push Ruth for the season's honors, fizzled.

Standing Order to Slug

It is not hard to explain. Kelly was not a flash. He has the ability to become a great homerun getter, not as great, perhaps, as Ruth. Kelly plays on a club where team play, above everything else, is demanded by the management. Ruth goes to the plate with a standing order to slug. Kelly has to do just what John McGraw tells him to do. If the situation calls for a sacrifice, Kelly has to lay one down. If a long fly is needed, he has to deliver. Except in cases where he is first up, or where there are two down and none on, he seldom gets a chance to take a good swing at the ball.

The Giant club owners apparently believe that the glory of a pennant and the money resulting from a world's series mean more to the team than the money that would result from an exploitation of homerun getting.

Padded Cells Sought by Home Brew Fiends

OLEAN, N. Y.—Hooch fiends and home-brew hounds are awful things here, and the police station is badly in need of two padded cells to take care of the ones who partake of the amateur intoxicating drinks.

The Board of Health made this discovery recently and has made a recommendation to the common council that the padded cells be installed.

Startling results have been produced by moonshine, and home brew, according to the board, and the ones who drink it too freely are affected. "It frequently occurs that a person becomes suddenly demented and violent, endangering the lives of themselves and others, and it is the duty of the city to provide a place for the temporary detention of such persons," the board recommended.

Recent experiments of injecting appendicitis patients with serum are said to have been so successful that operations with the knife may soon be abolished.

car struck him, breaking both of his ankles. He was taken to a hospital in Los Angeles.

The dancing party which will be given by the La Crescenta Woman's club Saturday evening, August 13, promises to be a delightful affair. One of the entertainment features of the occasion will be the appearance of Baby Vonda, the miniature Pavaio, who will give several classical dances. Fletcher's orchestra will furnish the music.

La Crescenta Notes

The La Crescenta Hotel was the scene of one of the most delightful affairs of the mid-summer season last Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Richard Waldren entertained with a tea d'ansant for her daughter, Miss Nan Waldren. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rohne, Misses Elizabeth Jones, Jessie Conlin, Janet Culberson, Constance Cammeron, Lorin Czerniski, Aldine Norton, Marion Smithson, and Messrs. Dean Culberson, Dale White, Ted Martin, Donald Dewey, E. Wachtel, Frank Anderson and C. Robertson. Mrs. Harry Jones assisted Mrs. Waldren.

A. H. Mastin of Los Angeles is the guest of R. E. Steere.

C. L. Mead, Leland Mead and H. R. Tritt of Montrose left Tuesday for the north on a hunting expedition.

Miss Jessie S. Conlin returned on Friday from a motor trip to Sequoia National Park. She was the guest of the Misses Osman of Eagle Rock.

Mrs. H. R. Tritt and children of Montrose are visiting her parents at Redondo Beach for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul La Gue and Miss Val La Gue returned last week from a six weeks' motor trip through the Yosemite.

Mrs. Davenport and Mrs. E. Haney were hostesses to the Ladies' Missionary society Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Davenport on Mayfield avenue. After the business meeting Rev. C. Davenport gave a most interesting talk on "Retrenchment in Foreign Fields." Dainty refreshments were served, followed by a social hour. Miss E. Davenport of Monrovia was an out of town guest.

The La Crescenta Community church and Sunday school will picnic at Brookside Park Saturday afternoon. A young peoples' class has been organized by Rev. A. H. Kilso, pastor of the church, with the following officers: Jessie Conlin, president; Robert Kelso, vice president; Edith Bush, secretary and treasurer; Janit Culberson, chairman of the membership committee. The morning services are held in the church and the evening services in Glenrose park.

C. T. Johnson, owner and operator of the lumber yards at Montrose, was seriously injured last Friday. He was standing by his car in front of his place of business when a passing

New Stenciled Dress Popular English Style

LONDON—The stenciled dress has come to town for a long visit. So far there are only two stencillers, and they are besieged with orders.

Carlo Norway, a London artist, experimented for a long time with stenciled designs in oils and applied the experiment to frock. Robert Fox, a brother artist, suggested swelling his exchequer by marketing stenciled dresses.

The two combined, and in Norway's studio conceived the designs, cut them in thin brass and put them onto samples of dress material—everything from silk to velvet. All sorts of designs were tried—birds, animals, ordinary geometric designs.

Success came immediately. Wholesale buyers gave orders at sight. Two sample frocks submitted a few days ago have brought fifty "repeat" orders.

Stenciled frocks may be folded or washed without damage to the paint; the paint, in fact, penetrates the material better when washed and the greatest feature is that non-duplicatable designs can be furnished on request.

The Sam Browne belt, worn by officers of foreign armies and Americans who saw service overseas during the world war, are now a part of the regulation issue uniform for officers of the United States army.

Figs In North? Well, Who Cares Single Fig

WOODLAND—Mrs. Kate Murphy, widow of Esparto, is out to puncture the claim of southern California that figs, white, black, and any other color only grow in orchards on the other side of the Tehachapal.

Mrs. Murphy is very fond of figs, especially the Yolo-grown variety. Several weeks ago she visited southern California with her daughters. While there she went to a number of places in an attempt to get Sacramento valley figs. Everywhere, she said, she was informed that figs only grew in southern California.

She came back to Woodland with an idea. She has taken the funds of her small estate, and has organized the "Yolofig Packing and Distributing Company." She has already distributed a large quantity of her first pack through commission houses in the state.

In order to advertise Yolo county and send a simply but pointed message to southern California, Mrs. Murphy arranged that the labels on the cartons would contain only the words "Yolofig—Woodland, California."

Her packing company is booming. There are 900 acres of figs in Yolo county.

OBEYING THE SIGN

"Did you deliver my message to Mr. Smith, Tommy?" asked the manager of the new office boy.

"No sir," replied Tommy. "He was out and his office was locked up."

"Why didn't you wait for him as I told you to do?"

"There was a notice on the door, sir, saying, 'Return Immediately,' so I came back here as quickly as I could, sir."

Governor's Salary Is Discussed at Capital

SACRAMENTO — Who wouldn't be governor of California? This is a question buffeted about by state officials, especially those who consider it from the financial standpoint.

While it is the general belief the governor receives a salary of but $10,000 a year, the truth is he gets a gross annual salary of $32,950 or a gross monthly salary of $2,745, when allowable expenses are considered.

Figured from the appropriations granted the governor for the next two years by the last legislature the salary question presents itself as follows:

Salary for biennium—$20,000 or $10,000 a year or $833 1-3 month. Postage, traveling and contingent—$18,400 or $9,200 a year or $766 2-3 a month.

Special Secret Fund—$10,000 or $5,000 a year or $416 2-3 a month. Upkeep gubernatorial mansion—$17,500 or $8,750 a year or $730 1-5 a month.

Total gross annual salary, $32,950; monthly salary $2,745.

Records at the capital show the various appropriations always are drawn on for the full amount allowed for each month. In other words, there never is a balance in any of the gubernatorial funds.

Half the world don't know how their better halves live, and if they are wise they won't try to find out.

Encampment Is Closed After Ten Days of Success; New Officers

A most successful ten days' encampment of the Southern California Veterans' association, which comprises members of the G. A. R. and Women's Relief Corps, of the southern counties of the state, has just been brought to a close at Santa Monica canyon, officers for the next year being elected yesterday, including several members of the Glendale post and corps.

Officers for the ladies' auxiliary were elected as follows: Alice Yount, president; Minnie Gibsen, senior vice president; Lottie Field, junior vice president; Helen Barton, treasurer; Priscilla Houdyshe, Glendale, chaplain; Allison Thompson, Anna Maxwell and Eva Pope, members of the council. G. A. R. officers elected were A. H. Thomas, commander; T. O. Andrews, senior vice commander; J. L. Leiser, junior vice commander; Reverend C. R. Norton, of Glendale, chaplain; Dr. Hassen, surgeon; members of the council included T. W. Barrett and C. H. Clark, both members of N. P. Banks post of Glendale.

Those from Glendale who attended the meetings during the encampment included Priscilla Houdyshe, Mary Mulligan, Della Hapgood, Elizabeth Fuller, Susie Peck, Jennie Phillips, Mayme Pollock, Ada Denney, Mary Sanford, Reverend C. R. Norton, C. H. Clark, T. W. Barrett, Robert Taylor, Thomas Hull, S. Houdyshe, Thomas C. Fuller, and Robert Seales, who was bugler of the camp.

A splendid entertainment was given every evening during the encampment.

Tuesday of this week over 2500 people were served at luncheon, including over 900 veterans.

'LESSONS IN LOVE' FEATURE PICTURE, PALACE GRAND

Constance Talmadge's Latest Starring Vehicle Offered
as Attraction Today

Constance Talmadge's latest starring vehicle, "Lessons in Love," will be today and tomorrow's attraction at the Palace Grand Theatre. It is an adaptation from Douglas Murray's stage play, "The Man from Toronto." Two old men attempt to pick a husband for their ward, a charming young girl. One of these old men tries to induce his nephew to come East and meet the girl. He refuses. The aged plotters then decide that the uncle shall play dead, leaving a will which provides that the nephew shall inherit his fortune if he marries the girl.

The report of the old man's death brings the young man East. The girl then decides to take a hand in her own affairs. She is not one to place herself on exhibition for a prospective husband to look over and reject, as may please him. She hides her identity behind a serving maid's uniform, and, thus disguised, plays fast and loose with him. Of course, he falls in love with her and she with him. There is a serious misunderstanding towards the end, but the decidedly complex situation is finally smoothed out.

"The Skipper's Flirtation," another domestic riot in Tonerville, and the Paramount Magazine complete the week end bill.

Boy Is Pulled From Boat by Fish; Hey? Yes, It's True Yarn

Bob and Bill Bradbury, Glendale's youthful moving picture stars, who live at 510 North Louise street, returned Wednesday from Catalina Island where they have not been taking a vacation, but have been working very hard on two new pictures. They were in the channel five days, twenty-five miles from Avalon, trying to get a tuna to use in a fishing picture and when they finally caught the big fish it pulled Bob out of the boat into the water. This sounds more exciting than it was, Bob says, as he hung on for dear life and helped land the big fish after all.

They also worked on a wild goat picture on the isthmus. This was the hardest work they had to do as they were supposed to lasso the goats, and Bill says that the Catalina wild goats nearly got their goats before they were through with them.

In spite of the work they had a very pleasant time as there were a good many of their Glendale friends at Avalon. Mrs. Bradbury had a chance to enjoy a good vacation, as she did not have to go out on the locations, but rested and visited with her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Peebles Enjoying Auto Trip In Eastern Section

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peebles, who left this city several months ago on an extensive automobile tour throughout the east, report that the overland vacationists will start on their return trip home about August 20. At present Mr. and Mrs. Peebles, with their two children, John and Evelyn, are now enjoying a visit with relatives in Montreal, Canada, and they are planning to leave that city next week for Richfield, Illinois, where they will be joined on their return trip to California by Floyd Reed.

Mr. Reed, who is also a resident of this city, made the trip east with Mr. and Mrs. Peebles as far as the Illinois city, where he has spent the last two months with his parents.

The return route will be chosen through Kansas, New Mexico and Arizona with short stopovers to be made at the various points of interest. The party expects to arrive in Glendale about September 20.

Two Youths Accused of Automobile Theft

Constable H. E. Purrier assisted by City Marshal George Cole and Policeman Fred Olchbary and J. W. Gould of Burbank are responsible for the capture at Burbank Monday of two youthful alleged automobile thieves, Mayton Allen, 19, and Paul Ferris, 17.

The automobile, a Ford touring car, had been stolen from Paul Eickmeyer, of Temple street and Glendale avenue, Los Angeles. When apprehended the boys, so the police say, were loading parts of the stolen automobile, which they had stripped, into another automobile which had been borrowed by them for this purpose. Paul Ferris accidentally shot and killed another boy at Vernon about two months ago.

City Councilmen and Board of Education May Hold Conference

Relative to the improvement of streets upon which school property has frontage, T. W. Watson, city manager, submitted a report to the city council last night with the result that it is probable the council will arrange a meeting with the board of education to discuss the following from the city manager:

"Our report of the 4th instant in regard to the improvement of Doran, Everett and Geneva streets and Lexington drive set forth that on Doran, Everett and Geneva streets the estimated cost of the portion of such improvement that would be assessed to the Doran street school property was $3600 and that the board of education had not the funds to meet such payment, therefore it would be necessary to eliminate the paving in front of the school property or delay the proceedings for a year or more. This brings to mind a problem that should in our opinion have the joint consideration of your council and the board of education, that is, to devise ways and means to meet the cost of street paving in front of school property. There is a large street frontage within the city of Glendale held by the board of education as school property, a large portion of which is on unpaved streets. It is probable that the streets upon which the several school sites front will be paved within a short time as there seems to be a general desire expressed throughout the city that the unpaved streets be paved as soon as prices have readjusted sufficiently to permit this to be done to advantage.

"I would therefore suggest to your council that the board of education be invited to meet with you at an early date with the view of working out jointly a practical plan to meet the cost of paving in front of school property."

Local Ford Agency Calls on Outside to Help Meet Demands

Edward S. Lawrence, assistant manager of the local Ford agency, reports that during the first three and a half days of this week the concern sold seventeen machines, all but three of which were new cars. On Wednesday Mr. Lawrence says that it was necessary to send out an S. O. S. for four new cars, and on Thursday three had to be sent out from Los Angeles to supply the local demand.

The Glendale authorities state that three carloads of Fords and one carload of Fordson tractors are now on their way to the local headquarters from the Detroit factory.

"You can see that our moving activities are not interfering with our regular business," is the way Mr. Lawrence expressed himself regarding the recent spurt.

GIVE FAREWELL TO MISSIONARY WHO GOES TO JAPAN

Miss Matilda Spencer Will Resume Work; Spends 43
Years In Orient

The auxiliary of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Casa Verdugo Methodist church, assisted by the Young Women's class of that church entertained Thursday night at the church parlors with a farewell social in honor of Miss Matilda Spencer, a missionary who is leaving shortly for Japan.

Miss Spencer went to Japan forty-three years ago and has spent the most of her life there. She was recently retired by the Methodist Mission board, but the Japanese people who have learned to love her during her life with them urged her to return and are themselves furnishing her with the money for her trip and with a home in their country.

Miss Spencer has been visiting in Glendale for some weeks and has made some very interesting talks to the missionary societies of the different churches here.

Entertaining Program

Miss Maude Soper and Mrs. E. O. Thayer were in charge of the social and had arranged a very entertaining program for the pleasure of the guests.

Following the program delicious refreshments were served and Miss Spencer was presented with two very pretty gifts, a set of a dozen linen table napkins and a silver cake knife. These were presented as a token of appreciation for her work and to wish her happiness in her work in Japan.

Dixieland Tunes to Be Featured on Bill of Vaudeville Show

The special Meiklejohn & Dunn vaudeville road show at the Glendale theatre, Saturday, offers a real entertainment, the wise traffic cop should be polite to the passerby.

Mr. Taylor is a very clever pianist, and his charming partner is considered one of the best gowned women on the stage today.

Harrison and Holloway, are another clever team who will entertain with their delightful vaudeville routine. Alfredo, "The Musical Rube" has an act that appeals to both children and grown-ups.

On the same bill will be shown "The Big Adventure," starring Little Breezy Eason, Jr., the wonder child of the screen.

Politeness Pays, So Traffic Cop Asserts

CHICAGO, Ill.—The wise man is polite to the traffic cop. By the law of compensation, the wise traffic cop should be polite to the passerby.

Patrick F. Sheehy, traffic officer No. 4598, believes that this statement works both ways. He has $25 to prove it.

When Patrick was given his whistle and a busy corner in the Chicago Loop, he had a pretty good training in traffic regulations. But one day he read in a magazine about a bride who was embarrassed because she didn't know which foot to put first in walking down the aisle to the altar. The left foot is correct, of course.

"So I started to study etiquette. Now I am sure of myself, and whenever a motorist attempts to get past me, I never lack words to tell him about it."

Sheehy is given credit for being the "politest policeman" in Chicago police headquarters, and in the Chicago police bulletin. Another reward came the other day, and Sheehy said it happened like this:

"A man came up and asked me where he could buy a box of grapefruit and a cheap straw hat. I told him. Then he asked me how high the Masonic temple was, and I told him. I was going to tell him some interesting stuff about the League of Nations and the Panama Canal, but he wouldn't listen. He went away and came back in a few minutes with $25."

Madame Curie's gram of radium, when transported across the ocean, was placed in 120 pounds of wood, lead and steel. The radium has the bulk of a peanut, but its potential energy, if released at once, would have lifted the 46,000-ton ship and cargo out of the water to destruction.

King Protects Monkey Which Killed His Son

WASHINGTON—The monkey which bit King Alexander of Greece, causing the monarch's death, is alive and the pampered pet of royalty instead of pickling in a surgeon's vat, as claimed, according to John Poulos, American Greek, just returned from Athens.

"My father is a palace official, and from him I learned the true story of the simian regicide," said Poulos.

Poulos said that the guilty monkey was a Weeping Capachin. After it bit the king it was turned over to a court physician for observation.

"The monkey was a little round-headed, human-faced fellow, and except for a moody eye did not appear to be vicious," narrated Poulos. "When the doctors called in consultation decided to kill the monkey to determine if it was suffering from rabies, King Alexander himself intervened and asked that the life of his pet be spared if possible. As the doctors were confident their diagnosis of the king's illness was correct, without further proof, and that he did not have rabies, Alexander's request was granted, although the world was told that the monkey was killed."

"Alexander died. Constantine returned. One day the reenthroned king asked of the fate of the monkey which had killed his son."

"He is caged in an unused room in the palace, sire," informed a retainer.

"I will see him," said the king. He went and gazed silently at the monkey. Maybe it was a flea on the monkey's head that made him raise

Pedestrian Fined For 'Bumping Into Auto'

WAUKEGAN, Ill.—H. C. Reimer, a pedestrian, was arrested and fined $7.40 because he started to cross the street and bumped into an automobile. He was arraigned in police court after his injured head was bandaged. The charge was "bumping into an automobile."

GOOD GARDENERS

Blind men make good gardeners, says Mrs. Duncombe of London, founder of the Guild of Blind Gardeners, who was an enthusiastic gardener before her sight began to fail. "I can tell different flowers quite easily by the sense of touch," she said. Miss D. Brown, who is interested in the guild, quotes the instance of a blind gardener she employed who could tell different types of roses by touch alone, where to other people scent was the chief guide.

MAKING IT CLEAR

Clarence was trying to explain to his playmate the distinction between the small dog and the larger one, and this is the way he expressed himself: "The little dog is the baby dog, and the big one is the mama dog, just like your mama."

his hand as though in salute to the king. Constantine thought not. "The instrument of the gods," he muttered. "He shall live." Then turning to servants of the household Constantine ordered that the monkey be put in a more luxurious cage. He detailed a special servant to look after its wants and ordered that no harm should come to a single hair on its body.

At the Greek legation here it was said that the monkey assassin was dead.

War Is Over But Is Not Forgotten; Bam!

CHICAGO — Von Hindenburg's likeness was flashed on the screen. "Hurrah," shouted J. M. Pilsen. He was soaked on the ear by an ex-serviceman. "The war's over," said Pilsen. "But not forgotten," rejoined the ex-serviceman.

SAFETY FIRST

It was a pleasant enough house in its way, but the daughters were not famed for their beauty, and their matrimonial prospects seemed remote. Still there was one young man, supposed to partake largely of the "Johnny" species, who it was thought might be brought up to the scratch.

With this view the dowager asked him sweetly one afternoon: "And now Charlie dear, I must really ask you what your intentions are?"

But Charlie was not such a "Johnny" as they supposed; for he rose from his seat, bowed to his hostess and made for the door. "Madame," he paused to reply, "I make it a rule never to have an intrigue with a married woman."

SUNDIAL OF LITTLE USE

The sundial is nothing like so efficient as a watch. It never was very much of an aid to a man as a time indicator. It never professed to do more than tell the time of day, because it could not tell the time of night, and on old sundials, as well as on many new ones, is this sentence, often in Latin: "I mark none but sunny hours." So that on foggy days, or on days of gloom and cloudy skies, the "gnomon," which is that triangular piece whose shadow points out the time on the dial, casts no shadow.

Demand for Electric Energy Greater Than Supply, Is Declared

That the demand for electric energy exceeds the supply in its territory is the declaration made to the railroad commission today by Southern California Edison company in asking for a certificate to construct an additional unit of its Big Creek development in Fresno county. The company desires to proceed with the construction of Big Creek Powerhouse No. 3, together with a transmission line connecting with the lines carrying power to Los Angeles. The applicant states that the additional power to be generated will be distributed in the territory now served by it, and will not be used in competition with any existing public utility.

H. S. Webb Arrives at Merced Prepared for Camp Comforts

From Merced, California, H. S. Webb of the H. S. Webb company wires Fred Walton of his men's furnishings department as follows: "Arrived Merced 7 p. m. Six passengers and six suit cases, two satchels, two complete tents and double iron bed, provisions, bedding and mattresses for six, also fishing tackle, camp chairs. Covered 278.10 miles without boiling. Temperature 95 degrees here."

Mr. Webb is driving a stock Buick touring car which he purchased from Tanner & Hall, local distributors. Accompanying him on his trip are his mother, and sister Mrs. Helen Sawyer with her two children, Henry and Barbara, and Ted Morse who is driving.

ROMANCE OF THE PEARL
The romance which surrounds the pearl is as old as history. Cleopatra dissolved and swallowed a pearl valued at $400,000 in honor of Antony; Sir Thomas Gresham dining with Queen Elizabeth, dissolved a pearl worth $90,000 and drank it.

Chicago Couple Are Visiting This City for Summer Months

Mr. and Mrs. John McDonald of Chicago, who have been attending the national convention of chiropractors at San Francisco, arrived in Glendale this morning and will be the guests for the summer of Mrs. McDonald's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Finn of 218 East Garfield avenue.

Peerless Ice Cream Products Is Name of New Industry Here

Peerless Ice Cream Products—That is the name of Glendale's newest industry which will be started October 1 by Clyde L. Morrison and an associate at 109 North Glendale avenue. A permit for the establishment of this ice cream manufactory was granted last night by the city council.

Spencer Robinson is putting up the brick and concrete building which will be leased by Peerless Ice Cream Products, the first concern of its kind in this city. The plant will represent an investment of $6000 or more in machinery, not including the motor delivery trucks.

It is expected that the machinery which has been ordered, will be installed after September 15 and the plant in full operation by October 1. It will be a modern, up-to-date establishment making a better ice cream for the local trade, according to Mr. Morrison.

The latter is widely acquainted with the local trade here having been a partner with A. L. Baird in the Glendale Pharmacy prior to C. A. Stuart's ownership. More recently he has been employed by Roberts & Echols, druggists. He will have associated with him in this new enterprise a leading Los Angeles ice cream maker which assures the "Peerless" product.

'BIG TOWN IDEAS' IS LAUGH MAKER AT GLENDAL

Picture Built on Unusual Lines and Is Declared to Be Satisfying

A photoplay built on unconventional lines, and for laughing purposes, is "Big Town Ideas," a William Fox offering in which beautiful Eileen Percy is said to garner more laughs than in any one of her former vehicles. It will be seen at the Glendale theatre today.

Miss Percy starts out as a young dispenser of buckwheat cakes in a small town. She is possessed of a secret ambition to view at close range that beautiful New York city. At the end of the tale she realizes her ambition, and succeeds as well in making herself the party of the second part in a marriage ceremony with the handsome young hero, whom she has saved from serving an unmerited term in the penitentiary.

"On Account," a Century comedy, Urban Movie Chats and the latest screen classic, "Aesop's Fables Modernized" make for a program of complete satisfaction.

Fashion Show Will Be Big Attraction at Local Exposition

Classic Marlowe, vice president of the Pacific Coast Exposition company, will arrive in Glendale on Wednesday of next week to arrange for the fashion show which will have a big part in the Glendale Merchants' Exposition, August 27 to September 3.

Miss Marlowe's experience on the stage and screen, as well as in business, make her well fitted to direct the style displays, and H. Elmo LaBrecque, director general of the exposition, assures the merchants she will obtain the desired result in interesting the feminine visitors.

Another important announcement in connection with the exposition is the advertising to be given this city. Billboard space from Figueroa street in Los Angeles west and north to Glendale has been obtained and in a few days the "Glendale Merchants' Exposition" will be emblazoned before the motorist.

Due to the seemingly assured success of the show here, the officials of the Pacific Coast Exposition company are making every effort to give Glendale the greatest advantages possible with a view of making it a precedent in their line of endeavor.

HAPPY DEATH

The eternal prohibition question was being argued at the Knickerbocker club, and Cortlandt Bleeker said: "I once heard a preacher and an ex-doughboy wrangling just as we are wrangling now. The preacher shouted: 'You, an ex-doughboy of all men, to cry down prohibition! Why, you idiot, don't you know booze has killed more people than bullets ever did?'"

"'Maybe so,' said the ex-doughboy, and he laughed. 'Maybe so, parson, but all the same I'd rather be full of booze than full of bullets.'"

BETTER RETIRE
"I'm discouraged and tired of life," declared the head of the family.

"Why so despondent?" asked his friend.
"Statistics." "What's that got to do with it?"

"Yes; they say that five hours of work a day is enough to supply each member of the community with a living, provided the work be equally shared by all."

"Well, I'm the only one in five in my family that labors. So, if the statistics are true, to support the crowd, I've got to work twenty-five hours a day."

Dew is most abundant in exposed situations, there being less to arrest the radiation of the earth's heat.

Prevention Policy for British Interests Is Demanded of Officials

By CHARLES McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent
LONDON—British national interests demand that prevention instead of cure must be the policy to prevent repetitions of the disastrous coal strike, which has thrown hundreds of thousands of workers out of employment during the last three months, J. R. Clynes, M. P., chairman of the labor party, said in an interview today.

"There are three great lessons to be learned from the dispute," Clynes said.

"First, the national interest, in which the miners' interest is included, is not in considering how best to end a dispute, but how to prevent it."

"Second, the workers' leaders, who are chosen as the best men in their unions, must have power as well as responsibility, so that they can tell their fellows what is best for them if terms are offered."

"Third, employers and the government should see the folly of placing large bodies of men in a position where they must fight regardless of consequences to the country because fighting appears to them to offer the only shield against starvation."

Real Issues Obscured
"During the first few weeks of the coal stoppage, the real issues relating to wages were obscured by frantic condemnations of the miners' leaders who were said to be engaged in a wicked attack on the community and desired nothing other than the strangulation of British industries and the downfall of Empire interests."

"Some of this was caused by the lamentable mistake which at first prevented the working of the pumps at the mines. Had this mistake not been made, the public would have penetrated the facts more readily and would have seen the strength of the miners' case."

"The enormity of the reductions impelled the miners to use every weapon possible, and for the first time they called away the pumpmen. This was the natural answer to the owners' notices to pumpmen, as well as miners, to quit or accept drastic arbitrary reductions."

"The effect, however, was to harden opposition to the miners without either softening or improving the outlook of those who had to act for the government or speak for the mine owners."

"But the dispute should have been prevented. Had terms similar to those put forward by the government when the dispute had lasted two months before the stoppage occurred, there would have been no stoppage at all."

Great Unemployment
"As in the case of other great industrial disputes, the coal stoppage has shown how foolish it is for both sides to make sweeping statements as to what they will never do. Unqualified declarations of policy by either side intended to alarm or terrify the other side seldom have the effect desired."

"Also, the appalling unemployment due to the mines dispute reveals the serious and costly defects in trades union machinery for settling great disputes. The executives, chosen as the best men in their unions, should have power to secure for their side the best terms possible."

Show Over, Theatre Dark, Boy Asleep In Seat; Parked There

Lights in the Glendale theatre had been turned out.
Madame Clement was leaving the orchestra pit when the flashlight she carried spotted a small hand hanging onto a seat the second row from the front.
A little fellow, not 5 years old, was awakened, but he didn't know where he belonged. While William A. Howe, manager, and Al Cawood, house manager, were conducting an investigation the little fellow wandered back through the darkened house to the seat in which he evidently had been left.
Then it was that Ira L. Herbert of the Glendale patrol and fire dispatch rushed into the house, caught the little fellow by the hand and said:
"Let's go home, James."
James went without saying "good night."

ENGLAND DISPLAYS FRIENDSHIP FOR UNITED STATES

Can Never Fight Again, Not Even Quarrel, Statement
Made at Gathering

By CLYDE A. BEALS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
LONDON—Everything on this side of the water points to the rapid increase of good feeling toward the United States. The unthinkability of quarreling with America is only rivaled as a popular newspaper topic by the impossibility of war.

"Friendly co-operation with the United States is for us," said Mr. Lloyd George in his opening address to the Dominion premiers now meeting in London, "a cardinal principle. . . . We are ready to discuss with American statesmen any proposal for the limitation of armaments which they may wish to set out, and we can undertake that no such overtures will find a lack of willingness on our part to meet them."

That, however, only came as a climax to what has gone before, and serves as a keynote for what has gone on since. The last few months have seen a sudden growth of Washington busts and statues in England. The Sulgrave Institution presented three busts, one to Liverpool, one to Sulgrave Manor, the home of Washington's ancestors, and the third went to one of the most sacred spots in the British Empire, the crypt of St. Paul's cathedral. The "Heart of England," Trafalgar Square, now treasures a replica of the Houdon statue of Washington, presented by the state of Virginia.

"Can Never Fight Again"

The Marquis Curzon, receiving the statue on behalf of the government, said: "The two great branches of the English-speaking race are now and henceforth indissolubly one. We can never fight again. We can never even quarrel again."

This unveiling occasioned many expressions in London papers to the effect that England would never be satisfied until of her own initiative she had erected a statue of Washington in Westminster Abbey. For England there is no more hallowed spot. Statues of Lincoln have also become popular. One was placed in a cemetery on Calton Hill in Edinburgh shortly after the United States entered the war. About a year ago a statue of him was placed just across the street from the parliament buildings, though it has been temporarily removed to have a firm base built. Newspaper photographers took snapshots of that unveiling of the Prime Minister singing "The Star Spangled Banner."

All these signs of Anglo-American friendship are being encouraged by British and American societies. The most remarkable is the English-speaking Union. It was founded by twelve Americans and Englishmen in London on July 4, 1918. On the third anniversary of its birth, it had over 5000 members. The American president is ex-President Taft, and the English president is Arthur J. Balfour. The luncheons and banquets that the Union holds have become the vehicles of semi-official announcements. Ambassador Harvey's formal bow was made at one of the formal bows that caused so much comment all over the world. Ambassador Davis made his farewell at one. The Prime Minister has spoken on occasions, as well as Winston Churchill and other prominent English statesmen.

Working in Harmony

There are several other such organizations of friendship on a smaller scale. The Anglo-American society recently endowed a chair of American history. Lord Bryce delivering the first lecture. The Sulgrave Institute has already been mentioned. The Pilgrim Society is another.

Working in harmony with all these institutions have been the visits of the Rotarians and the American members of the International Chamber of Commerce. They both made a fine impression.

As one expression of English friendship, Sir Charles Wakefield is presenting to Pittsburgh a bust of Pitt, and to Washington, D. C., a bust of Burke, both of which statesmen were decidedly friendly toward America.

On the Fourth of July, when many business houses in London were displaying American and English flags, the London Times, one of the world's greatest papers, published a twenty-page American section. Americans in England, who are delighted at the signs of maturing friendship, send only one comment home to the people coming over to plant more signs of good will.

"Some one ought to tell them," one said, "that the English are very reserved in their sentiment. They never like to have it thrown on with a shovel. The Gettysburg address contains 267 words."

When a woman marries a man to reform him she has tackled a lifetime job of twenty-four hours a day.

"Hurry is the mark of a weak mind," says a feminine writer. Her ladyship was evidently never chased by a savage dog.

MINUTES OF CITY COUNCIL

Following are the minutes of the City Council, in session last night, as prepared by City Clerk J. C. Sherer:

The council assembled at 7:55 p. m.; all members present. The minutes of the regular meeting of July 28 were read and a correction ordered to be made on page 175, adding to motion of Councilman Kimlin in ordering vitrified sewer pipe for the business district, that this action does not bind the city to the acceptance of this pipe for future work. The minutes of the special meeting of August 9 were read and approved.

For Wier and Pipe Line

The clerk reported that no bids had been received in reply to advertisement asking for the same for wier and pipe line to be opened on this date.

Pacific Avenue District

Alex Mitchell addressed the council in reference to improvement of streets of Pacific Avenue district recently annexed to the city. He asked for information in regard to procedure and action. City Attorney Evans suggested that a general deed be prepared for the signature of the property owners who are willing to transfer property to the city of Glendale for street purposes.

On motion of Councilman Stephenson the following resolution was adopted, all voting aye:

Therefore, be it resolved, that the receipt of said notice be and the same is hereby acknowledged and the circulation of said petition on the part of said electors be and the same is hereby approved.

Against Dog Kennel

A petition was presented to the council signed by Pearl A. Curran and about seventy-five other citizens and property owners in the district near Riverdale drive and San Fernando road, asking that the council revoke its action by which permit to conduct a dog kennel was granted to J. A. Benjamin. The petition set forth that an unsightly fence is being erected around the property and in other ways, in the opinion of the petitioners, the establishment is a nuisance, and detriment to the neighborhood.

Mr. Smith, one of the interested parties, spoke in regard to the subject, and on motion, petition was referred to the city manager to report opinion at the next regular meeting, when an opportunity will be given to parties interested in the matter to be heard.

Sierra Avenue District

A communication was presented from P. S. McNutt announcing the fact that by an election held on this date, the people of Sierra Avenue district had voted that their territory be annexed to the city of Glendale. The communication expressed gratification at the result and thanked the members of the council for their interest taken in the matter. Ordered to be filed.

Improvement of Salem Street

Communication was presented signed by Edward C. Jennings and other property owners of Salem street, west of Kennilworth street, stating that the petitioners have signed a contract with the firm of Edwards & Wilkey for the improvement of a portion of Salem street, with the exception of two owners who refused to sign. The petition requested that the city take legal proceedings as to these parties in order that the improvement may be made at this time.

The city attorney advised the council that it would be necessary for the entire proceeding to be treated as a whole; it not being practicable to proceed against a portion of the property involved. On motion of Councilman Stephenson the city clerk was instructed to notify the petitioners to this effect.

Request From San Fernando

A communication was read from San Fernando Fair and Market, Inc., stating that at the fair to be held at San Fernando, Sept. 13-18, free auto parking is to be provided in the fair grounds, and requesting the city to grant, gratis, to the fair management during that period the use of a motorcycle officer and one regular or special officer of the city of Glendale to give full time. The city manager presented a communication calling attention to the fact that H. A. Harrison had been appointed city comptroller for a period of thirty days only and he recommended that this appointment be continued for a period of sixty days from date. On motion of Councilman Lapham the recommendation of the city manager was approved and appointment be continued for the term specified.

$22,000 Bond Issue

In a communication to the council, the city manager recommended that the city clerk be authorized to forward to Attorney J. C. Thomson of New York City, transcript of all legal proceedings in connection with the $22,000 bond issue; this being in accordance with the recommendation of the city attorney. On motion the recommendation of the city manager was approved and the city clerk instructed in accordance with the same.

Verdugo Road Reservoir

In a communication to the council the city manager stated that he had requested Engineer H. B. Lynch to submit estimates of the cost of water-proofing of Verdugo road reservoir with his recommendations in regard to the same, and recommending that the reservoir be water-proofed before it is placed in commission. In this connection the engineer of the public service department addressed the council on the subject and on motion of Councilman Stephenson further action was deferred for one week and referred to the committee of the whole.

WHAT ANATOMY IS

A little negro school girl, down in Florida, in answer to this question, wrote the following:

"Anatomy is a human body. It is divided into three parts, the head, the chest and the stummick. The haid holds the skull and the brains if they is any, the chest holds the liver and the lites, and the stummick holds the entrails and the vowels which are a, e, i, o and u and sometimes w and y."

THREE DAYS' GRACE

Maggie's sweetheart, a proverbial tight-fisted Scot, had taken her out for the afternoon, and that was about all. They rode some distance on the trolley, turned around and rode home again. Never was mention made of food or entertainment.

Back within her own gateway, Maggie, who had keenly felt the neglect, sarcastically proffered Sandy a dime.

"For the carfare you spent on me," she said meaningly. "Hoots, toots, woman," returned Sandy, pocketing the coin. "There was nae hurry. Saturday was hae been time enough."
